PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Standing on the side of encouragement and perseverance, I've always taken a steadfast approach to business and the curation of relationships. I consider myself a strong leader, "solution based," and was raised to be a problem solver. I often use independent decision making skills to be proactive, yet understand and embrace completely the value and weight of a strong team. When necessary I can be a collaborative leader or the janitor, I still lead with dedication, to promote an engaged and empowering work culture.
